

János Ladányi

PhD. in sociology from Hungarian Academy of Sciences. Full professor at the Department of Sociology and Social Policy, Corvinus University of Budapest.

Expertiza sa de cercetare include sociologie urbană și segregarea etnică și tema lucrărilor publicate variază de la stratificarea socială și politica socială la sociologie comparativă urbană, locuințe, sărăcia și etnie, și educație. A publicat pe tema istoriei Europei de Est și a realizat cercetări inovatoare în studii asupra romilor ducând la înțelegere mai profundă a percepțiilor despre romi.

His research expertise includes urban sociology and ethnic segregation and works range from social stratification and social policy to comparative urban sociology, housing, poverty and ethnicity, and education. He has worked on the history of Eastern Europe and did innovative research in Romany Studies to integrate Roma issues into social-welfare education programmes with deeper understanding of Roma perceptions, not just those of ethnic 'Gypsies' but also those of non-Roma and contemporary societies

Relevant publications

*Patterns of exclusion : constructing Gypsy ethnicity and the making of an underclass in transitional societies of Europe
by János Ladányi; Iván Szelényi
Columbia University Press, 2006.*

Ladányi, J. and Szelenyi, (2004) Patterns of Exclusion, by Stanford University Press in English

Ladányi, J. and Szelenyi, I. (2002) "The Nature and Social Determinants of Roma Poverty – a Cross-National Comparison" Review of Sociology, No. 2

Ladányi, J (2001) "The Hungarian Neoliberal State, Ethnic Classification, and the Creation of a Roma Underclass" in R.J. Emigh and I. Szelényi (ed.) Poverty, Ethnicity, and Gender in Eastern Europe During the Market Transition, 67- 82, London: Praeger

Ladányi, J (2002) "Residential Segregation among Social and Ethnic groups in Budapest during the Post- communist Transition" in P.Marcuse and R. van Kempen (ed), Of State and Cities The Partitioning of Urban Space, pp.170-82, Oxford: Oxford University Press

Ladányi, J (1989) "Changing patterns of residential segregation" International Journal for Urban and Regional Research, 13: 555-72

Ladányi, János and Szelényi, Iván (1998) "Class, ethnicity and urban restructuring in post- communist Hungary" in G. Enyedi (ed.) Social Change and Urban Restructuring in Central Europe, 67- 86, Budapest: Akadémia Kiadó · Ladányi, J (1993) "Patterns of residential segregation and the Gipsy minority in Budapest". International Journal for Urban and Regional Research, 17(1).